I take powerful photos that empower people. I'm a space holder & a mirror for your own beauty.

I started my business in 2018 with a dream to change the way people perceive themselves. My life's mission is to help you connect with your own essence and create a safe space to express yourself freely.

We live in a society that doesn't allow people to reach their full potential. So in this big world, I've decided to make a difference as best I can.

LOVE NOTE

Aude

« Amandine revealed my divine essence and allowed me to attract new clients. It exceeded all my expectations. Her sweetness, warm love, and cheerful attitude truly make you feel like a Goddess. Beyond making me so comfortable to express my erotic energy, she's a highly skilled photographer who knows how to immortalize the beauty in and out of us, creating the right setup and staying attentive to every detail. Seeing the results brought me to tears. It was both extremely fun and healing. The quality pictures not only drive revenues and create lifelong memories, but they also deepen my healing and love for my soul and body. If you have the chance, you must book a session with her now. You will also be blown away and fall in love with yourself even more. It's more than photography, it's therapy to relearn how to love your body. »
